Newsletter

Greetings and a Very Happy 2015!

It has been a while since we sent out our last newsletter. At KnK Karts, we have been busy with developing what has always been a great kart, into a better one. This attention to detail is reflected across the product line and we will in time, bring you the details of these different models.

During this time, we have also upgraded our manufacturing facilities and a new manufacturing facility is expected to go on stream in March 2015.

It pleases us to add that, these developments have had very little impact on our prices so that we are still able to supply you a KnK kart at extremely competitive and reasonable prices. We are confident that you will be very hard pressed to find a kart of the high quality and build that we offer in the same price bracket as us.

As always, we cater to every aspect of karting that exists. The 2015 line up looks as attractive as ever. You can see them on our websites – www.knkkarts.com www.ace-kart.com
