February 2010

STRAIGHT FORWARD!!!

The new motor racing season is back.

In F1, new rules and regulations, new cars, new engines to meet and comply with the 2010 season of racing. No stops for fuel, regulated tyre changes amongst some of the new rules that looks like it has the ingredients for making the racing boring in spite of Michael Schumacher's return to F1 and the pace of the Force India cars.

I hope I'm wrong, time will tell....

Racing - Australia

The KnK Dominator Evo had its first outing in a 7-hour endurance race as the Cooloola Coast Kart Club in the Honda ProKart Australia Queensland Endurance Kart Championship got underway at their magnificent Gympie Gold Raceway.

KnK Scuderia deservedly earned ProKart Australia's "Best Presented" award"

This is what team driver Adam Clark has to say about the KnK Dominator Evo.

"It is by far the most responsive kart to changes I've driven.

We hope to do the brand proud this year and next."

Team KnK Scuderia finished the endurance

in 7th position after the grueling 7 hours after suffering a stalled engine and some brake problems. An excellent result considering they are racing the Evo Series model of the Dominator and not the Dominator TE (Team Endurance) race model. We wish them better luck in the next round

It is difficult to put into words how deeply saddened we are by the news of the passing away of Guy Tingey's daughter, Naomi. We pray for Guy and his family to find the courage and the strength to bear this great loss and to keep going through this very difficult time.

In a touching and beautiful tribute, members of Guy's KnK racing team Scott, Monica and Sabrina Saunders have changed the graphics on their kart in memory of Naomi Tingey.

Until next time then, thank you for reading with me, we will talk some more soon!
